

West Midlands Rural Delivery Framework

Chapter 1: Introduction & Background to Developing the West Midlands Regional Rural Delivery Framework

Here we set about introducing the process and outlining the background to developing the West Midlands Rural Delivery Framework. This was a very thorough and extensive exercise and we are grateful to many of you for comments and your help in gathering the information for the drafting process.

The aspirations for delivery of rural services are listed as well as details of the various work strands that have been undertaken. A number of these are continuing and will be important contributors to the evolution and future iterations of the Framework.
